Social Health

Our social health team can help you with counselling including drug and alcohol, social and emotional wellbeing, mentoring, men's and women's groups and mental health advocacy.

School health checks

Our clinic has an Aboriginal Health Worker and a Community Liaison Officer. We are happy to come out to schools in our local area.

Do you have a chronic illness?

We have care coordinators who can support you and help you manage all your health needs.

Dental

We also provide onsite accessible and affordable dental care for ATSICHS clients only. Access to these services is dependent on completion of an annual 715 Health Check at any Aboriginal Medical Service. The nearest dental clinic is located at Logan. You will need to contact the dental clinic directly for all dental appointments.

Mums and Bubs

Health care and support for mothers and babies and young children as well as antenatal care, postnatal care, immunisations and full women's health checks. The nearest mums and bubs clinic is at Woodridge.

OUR STAFF

We have a dedicated and friendly team of doctors, a practice manager, nurses, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health workers, care coordinators, community liaison officers, outreach workers, receptionists and transport drivers and a wide range of specialised health professionals.

Don't have transport?

Transport is available for certain patients who meet the current transport policy. Please ask reception when making an appointment.
